EASTERN DATES TO AUGUST 24

EASTERN STATES

West Virginia Election.

New York, August 24.—A dispatch from Parkersburg, West Virginia, says enough is known of the election in the State to show that the Constitution is defeated by two or three thousand majority, and the election of [illegible], Independent Democrat, by the same vote. The word "white" as a qualification for office submitted for a separate vote almost unanimously.

Chas. F. Adams' Position.

New York, August 2[illegible].—Secretary Delano at Washington stated that the family of Charles F. Adams have received a letter from him. He says he will not consent to be a candidate for Governor of Massachusetts, and that he does not sympathize with the Greeley movement and regards the election of Grant as essential to the best interests of the country.

Andrew Johnson will Declare Himself.

Nashville, August 22.—The pressure upon Andrew Johnson to run for Congress against the Convention nomination is very great. He has not said what he will do, but promises that in a speech which he will make to-morrow night he will give a definite answer.

Judge Hoadley Cannot Support Greeley.

Cincinnati, August 23.—Judge Geo. Hoadley, one of the original leaders of the Liberal Republican movement and a member of the Committee on Resolutions in the Cincinnati Convention, delivered an address in Avondale to-night on the question of Grant or Greeley. He commenced by saying he would have been glad to have avoided a choice between the two, believing, as he did, that the Cincinnati platform contains a reasonable statement of just dissatisfaction with the administration of Gen. Grant. He would prefer to have been allowed to vote for Adams, Trumbull, Cox or Chase had either of them been nominated, but the choice was between Grant and Greeley, and he could not support Greeley. Neither his opinions, his character, nor manner of his nomination, nor surroundings entitle him to support for administrative position. Grant was at least entitled to great consideration, as having imperishably linked his name with one of the greatest achievements of the country—the adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment, which has given the right of suffrage to every black man in the nation. This administration has kept universal peace with foreign governments. It has faithfully applied the revenues to the payment of the debt. From an administration elected by Greeley and supported by John Cochran, Fenton of New York, McClure of Pennsylvania, Gratz Brown of Missouri, Warmouth of Louisiana, Reed of Florida, we have a right to augur nothing but disaster. An alliance between Tammany and Greeley, with Frank Blair as high Priest conducting the march of combination, meant a greedy scramble after office and the depletion of the resources of the nation.

Political.

St. Louis, Aug. 24.—The straight out Democrats had a meeting yesterday in Clinton, Mo., and a club with [illegible] members was organized. Resolutions were adopted favoring the Louisville Convention.

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 24.—The State Convention of Democrats held a short session this morning. C. J. Bayard, who was chosen temporary chairman, made a speech declaring that every State would be represented at Louisville, that the action of the Baltimore Convention would be repudiated by the Louisville Convention, and that the Democracy of the country would rally around the nominees of the Louisville Convention. Committees on permanent organization, on resolutions and to nominate delegates to Louisville were appointed and a recess taken.

Cleveland, O., August 24.—The Liberals and Democrats of the Twentieth Ohio District held a Convention this morning and nominated for Congress Salah Chamberlain of this city.

Washington, August 24.—The straight Democratic Club of the District of Columbia last evening appointed two delegates to the Louisville Convention, and adopted resolutions pledging support to Charles O'Conor for the Presidency.

New York, August 24.—It is thought that Gen. Slocum will be the Democratic and Liberal candidate for Congress.

Senator Wilson addressed a mass meeting at Hudson last night, saying he had no doubt the Republicans would carry twenty out of twenty-one free States. He eulogized General Dix, and said the question was not whether Grant or Greeley would be President, but whether the Republican party, which had saved the country and made it free, should go to ruin with the help of a band of forty or fifty thousand disaffected Republicans and be made to abdicate and let the Democratic party go into power. He had no unkind words to say of Greeley and Brown. He regretted the position they had taken, but their success would be irregularly a Democratic triumph, and the voice of the rebellion would be heard in such an event—this time in Washington. He urged New York to come out from among the doubtful States, for although its position would not affect the result of the election in the country, the Republicans wanted the Empire State to occupy the place in the Union which was intended for it.

The Times prints a letter from Greeley to President Lincoln in which the latter is urged to appoint B. F. Camp Collector of the port.

New Brunswick, N. J., August 24.—State Senator O'Brien, in an interview, pronounces for the Louisville Convention and Charles O'Conor.

Charleston, August 23.—The Republicans nominated R. H. Gleaves (colored) for Lieutenant Governor, H. E. Hayne (colored) for Secretary of State, Judge W. Milton, Attorney General. [Inkstands were here thrown and the Convention adjourned until to-morrow.]

Louisville, August 23.—Letters from distinguished men from all parts of the country contain promises to attend the peace reunion.

Excursion Party.

Leavenworth, August 23.—A large excursion party from here celebrated the completion of the Leavenworth and Denver Railroad 66 miles past the city of Halton.

Miscellaneous Eastern News.

Washington, August 23.—The Treasury Department has issued instructions in accordance with the act of Congress for the relief of sufferers by the Chicago fire. Materials upon which drawback of duties will be allowed and paid must be imported and used in the erection of buildings upon the burnt district within one year from April 5, 1872.

New York, August 24.—An English correspondent throws great discredit on Stanley's account of finding Dr. Livingstone.

St. Louis, August 24.—Over twenty cases of sunstroke have occurred here within the last three weeks, and a majority of the cases have proved fatal.

New York, August 24.—Both Mace and C. Baldwin claim stakes.

Police Sergeant Carr has absconded to California after victimizing his friends to the extent of $5,000.

The Tribune says ex-Controller Connolly has not been further than fifty miles from New York City, and most of the time in Westchester county; that he will turn State's evidence, and his testimony will convict Tweed and twenty other officials whose names so far have not been published. He will first appear to testify against voucher thieves, under Attorney General Barlow's instructions.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

The Belfast Riots.

Belfast, August 2[illegible].—The Mayor has ordered the public houses to remain closed until Thursday. The value of property destroyed by the mobs exceeds £50,000.

London, August 24.—Private telegrams from Belfast report that shooting has been renewed. Several severe encounters occurred. These reports are not yet confirmed by the press dispatches.

From Geneva.

Geneva, August 23.—A report which has gained currency that the Board's award to the United States is a lump sum of four millions sterling is premature. The strictest secrecy will be maintained till the decision is officially given. The Tribunal met at noon. Staempfli wished an adjournment till Tuesday next so as to permit the arbitrators to attend a grand musical festival to which they had been invited. [illegible] urged the pressure of business and the necessity of diligence on the part of the Board, and it was then agreed to adjourn only until Monday. The sitting to-day closed at [illegible] P. M. It is probable that the work of the Board will be completed before September 15th.

A social was given at the hotel of [illegible] Davis to-night; all the principal authorities were present.

From Paris.

Paris, August 23.—Efforts will be made to raise and repair the steamship [illegible], now near Santander, Spain, while on a voyage from [illegible] Aspinwall.

The United States steamer Shenandoah was sighted off Trouville this morning, and as she passed she fired a salute of twenty-one guns in honor of President Thiers. The salute was returned by Fort Coligny. The Shenandoah subsequently entered the harbor of Havre and came to anchor.

From South Africa, via London.

London, August 22.—The royal mail steamship from Cape Town arrived at Southampton. News from the diamond fields very favorable. Large numbers of precious stones continue to be found.

The Russian fleet, bearing Grand Duke Alexis, arrived at Cape Town en route from Rio Janeiro for the East Indies. Alexis was warmly welcomed by the residents.

MONTANA

Disastrous Conflagration in Helena.

Helena, August 24.—A fire broke out at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon near the North Pacific Hotel, Main street, and destroyed that building, a saloon adjoining, and Hagandorn's store, corner of Main and Broadway. The fire crossed Jackson street, completely destroying the Gazette establishment and every building bordering on the block by Jackson, Grand, Court House square and Broadway. The fire then crossed Broadway, destroying every building on the south side of that street from Jackson to Ewing street. Col. Vanter's fire proof and the buildings of other parties not burnt out are injured considerably by water, etc. Loss about $70,000; insurance $10,000.

The Tucson Citizen of August 17th, speaking of the San Francisco Bulletin's article on diamond discoveries, and locating the diamond field in the southern part of the Territory, near the Sonora line, says, in this we are quite positive that that journal is misinformed, and if these stories are true in the main we have many reasons for believing the excitement is based upon stones found near and probably in the northeastern part of Arizona. We will go slow and watch developments, neither urging any to go or to stay away from wherever they choose to believe gems exist.

General Kilpatrick in his controversy with the New York Times has come to grief. The Grand Jury of New York found an indictment against the Times, but that paper procured from the State Department at Washington an official statement of the reasons which had caused Kilpatrick's recall from Chile, and when these documents were submitted to the Grand Jury the indictment (which had not yet been sent into Court) was unanimously rescinded. Kilpatrick will have to search for a reputation elsewhere.

Thomas Steiner, last year Democratic candidate for Governor of Rhode Island, delivered a Grant speech at Woonsocket, in that State, a few days ago.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN STATES

A Democratic Nomination Declined.

Buffalo, August 24.—Judge Church addressed a letter to William Williams of this city declining the Democratic nomination for Governor.

New Jersey "Straight Outers."

Trenton (New Jersey), August 24.—The straight Democratic Convention was organized this morning. Samuel Bayard presided. The resolutions adopted were as follows:

First. That the Baltimore Convention having nominated an unpromising and unrepentant Republican, their action is invalid, void and imposes no obligation which Democrats are bound to respect.

The second approves the Convention at Louisville.

The third defines Democratic principles as a strict construction of the Constitution and opposed to the Federal principles of valetudinarian construction, and asserts that the nation has prospered under this principle.

The fourth says they lift aloft the time honored Democratic banner, inscribed with the principles of Jefferson, Madison and Jackson, and invite all who believe in pure government, in wholesome laws, in the greatest good to the greatest number, in civil rights, in free and prosperous trade, in education of the masses, in a speedy return to a specie basis, in official responsibility to the people, in a pure and learned judiciary, in a frank and honest foreign policy, opposed to the rule of overshadowing corporations in Congress, to imbecility in the Executive, to irredeemable paper currency, to packing the Supreme Court to serve Executive purposes, etc., to rally again to do vigorous battle under the banner of Democracy, for the unity, prosperity and peace of the country.

The fifth asserts that it is the bounden duty of Congress to exercise its power in the interest of producing and consuming claims.

The sixth sympathizes with the laboring classes in their labors to mitigate the hardships which the high prices of all articles of living have imposed upon them.

The seventh speaks of the commanding talents, stern integrity and unblemished purity of character of Charles O'Conor as eminently qualifying him for the discharge of the duties of Chief Magistrate, and recommends his nomination at Louisville.

The resolutions were adopted with applause. The following delegates were then appointed: Samuel J. Bayard, William A. Benjamin, C. C. Burrard, William Kennedy, and two from each district.

C. C. Burrard made a speech against Greeley and the coalition.

MONDAY MORNING AUGUST [illegible]

West Virginia Election

The result of the election in West Virginia is a signal Democratic defeat. That party was dissatisfied with the present Constitution of the State, which was framed in war times and was not [illegible] enough to suit them. Having obtained a majority in the Legislature they passed a resolution to submit to the people a proposition to call a Convention to revise the Constitution. This was made a party question before the people and the Democrats carried it by 2,8[illegible] majority, and at the same time elected a large majority of the delegates to the Constitutional Convention. The Convention assembled and a Constitution was framed to meet the views of the Democratic party. It was submitted to the people for adoption or rejection, and we are now informed by telegraph that it is rejected by a majority of two or three thousand and that the straight Democratic ticket is beaten with it by a similar majority. Members of Congress were also chosen at the same time, but we are not advised of the result. No doubt, however, need be felt that the Democrats have lost at least two of the three Congressmen. Inasmuch as the Constitution is defeated the present State officers will hold over till the next regular election.

To defeat the Constitution and the regular Democratic ticket there was a combination between the Republicans and anti-Greeley Democrats. Jacob, present Governor, is a Democrat, but opposed to Greeley. He ran independent, against Camden, regular Greeley nominee, and was supported by Republicans, who furnished part of the ticket. The regular election under the old Constitution will take place in October, and Jacob and Camden will in all probability again be pitted against each other. Of course a like result is again most probable.

The chief significance of this election is its demonstration that Greeley cannot carry West Virginia. It corroborates North Carolina. It shows that the candidacy of Greeley is weakness rather than strength to the Democratic party. Since he became a candidate Democrats have been defeated in three States which they had before carried, viz: Oregon, North Carolina and West Virginia, and have not gained a single point anywhere. Here is a line of facts which points unerringly to the grand result in November. Indeed, in view of the proportions which the Louisville Convention is assuming, it no longer seems improbable that Greeley and Brown may not receive a single electoral vote in all the thirty-seven States.

Concerning Sundry Conundrums

In its issue of Saturday the Herald propounded to us several conundrums about Dr Giltner. Not being able to answer them we give them up, and hand them back to that paper for solution. And while the editor is about it, he may as well state why it was that he, knowing so many things to the discredit of Dr Giltner as he now alleges, worked for him, voted for him, and with the aid of R J Ladd and their crowd generally, elected him a School Director at the late school meeting. Personally we know nothing regarding the truth or falsity of the charges which the Herald makes against the man whom it thought eminently fit in character and reputation to be placed over the schools for training our children, but whom it now, in the hope of making party capital, thinks too disreputable to be physician to the county poor house. We remember that the Herald, in speaking of the school meeting, was much elated because its friends had succeeded in electing so excellent a set of school officers.

It is our own opinion that the contract with Dr. Watkins to act as physician to the county poor is valid until its expiration in November. Others, however, seem to think differently. The matter, we hear, is likely to be tested in a suit at law. For his services Dr Watkins was receiving $1,000 per annum. Dr Giltner is to receive $1,200. The additional pay is a small matter, and may not be more than a greater call upon the time of a physician may justify. The essence of this matter is that Dr Watkins has a written contract which, if valid and binding, lasts till November. We think that the treatment of this contract as a nullity was an error. There are charges that it is corrupt. Pledges are said to have been given by the Commissioners on the subject before their election. But this these gentlemen deny, and defy proof. It is easy to insinuate charges, and a lively imagination can as easily suggest additional particulars as often as the original charges are rehearsed.

We have aimed to speak of this matter in an impartial manner. As we view it, the appointment of another physician during the existence of the contract with Dr Watkins was wrong. For the rest, we see no reason why the Herald should hold that the appointment as physician to the poor of the person whom the editor of that paper worked for and voted for so enthusiastically for the office of School Director a short time ago is so utterly unfit to be made.

A weekly paper in Polk county which has taken itself into the Greeley camp speaks of an article that appeared in the OREGONIAN relative to a Senatorial caucus, and says that the proposition "that the Republican members of the Legislature shall decide this question in caucus in accordance with party usage is an infamous suggestion." Just what business a hybrid Greeley sheet has to poke its nose into the affairs of the Republican party and presume to give counsel, does not appear. The dictum of a Greeley paper is not a rule of action for the Republican party. Of course all the Greeleyites are anxious to disorganize the Republican party and turn the fruits of its victory in June to naught, so that the State may go for Greeley in November and never be carried by Republicans again. Hence the [illegible] advice of the Greeley paper. Republicans can readily understand his invitation to play into the hands of their enemies.

Of course the Herald deems it necessary to say that the Republican meeting on Saturday night was a small affair. There was a well filled Court House, and over five hundred names were signed to the [illegible]. This is the best opening that was ever made here in a political campaign. Multnomah Republicans are preparing to give Grant and Wilson one thousand majority. Meantime the little back loft over Tim Malloy's tap room is sufficiently large to hold the Democratic party.

When the Greeley Democracy begin to give advice to Republicans about the election of a Senator and to mark out the course for Republicans to pursue in the Legislature, [illegible] it well enough for the latter to ask themselves what they are to gain by doing as the Greeley Democrats advise.

Model Reformers

In the New York Times of August [illegible]th there is a terrible exposure of that champion of the Greeley movement, ex-Senator Doolittle. The Times prints several letters, the originals of which it possesses in Doolittle's own handwriting, and copies of which are to be photographed and spread throughout the country, proving that Doolittle while a Senator of the United States became interested in [illegible] the Senate [illegible] the war, that he [illegible] to the extent of fifty thousand [illegible].

It was [illegible] that he wrote letters in behalf of Conatty and their joint scheme to General Banks, who then commanded in the Gulf Department, telling Banks that it was important to the public welfare that his Doolittle's partner should be put through promptly. The letters also show that Doolittle, the now pious reformer, exerted his official influence in various other ways to make the partnership successful and profitable. Altogether the exposures are terrible and will probably force Doolittle to seek refuge in obscurity from the scorn of his countrymen. Since the present campaign opened none have been more blatant than he in denouncing the corruptions of the present Administration. Since the adjournment of the Baltimore Convention, of which he was President, this model "reformer" has been constantly on the stump abusing Grant as a corruptionist, jobber and nepotist.

Still another eminent reformer comes along. On the 17th of July the New York Tribune published a long list of alleged defaulters. Referring to that list, it said:

> Bribery and embezzlement are the inevitable consequences when the qualifications required of an office holder are not honesty, efficiency and zeal in the discharge of his legitimate functions, but fidelity to the President's political fortunes and the ability to pack a Convention or lead a platoon of voters.

In the list itself appeared the following:

> Ex Congressman William B Stokes, Supervisor of Internal Revenue for Tennessee, arrested in Washington, October 23, 1871, accessory to defrauding the Treasury out of $68,000 by means of fraudulent bounty claims.

On August 7th it briefly showed that the ex Congressman aforesaid has reached his natural political haven. It says:

> General Stokes of Tennessee, has declared for Greeley and Brown.

So it goes. In this way the great "reform" movement has gathered in pretty much all the eminent "reformers" of the country, including Tammany and the great Boss Tweed himself.

While Cincinnati was the attraction our Democratic brethren were passionately fond of side shows. But Louisville is now the stage on which the side show business displays itself, and our Democratic brethren are afflicted and disgusted. They now find that nobody but disreputable characters go with the "side show" business.

The Democratic paper at Oregon City discovers that the Republican party "dies hard." Our contemporary will be of that opinion for many years yet before it finds the Republican party dead.

We shall soon see who can eat crow and who can't. The Democratic State Central Committee will assemble at Portland on the 2d September.

GRANT AND WILSON CLUB

The call published over a week since by the County Central Committee had the effect to draw out an immense crowd at the Court House on Saturday evening, to take steps toward the organization of a Grant and Wilson Club in this city.

The East Port and Band formed in the street about half past [illegible] o'clock in front of the American Exchange Hotel and after playing several animated airs marched to the Court House. Several huge bonfires were blazing in front of that building and illuminating by their red glare seven [illegible] blocks around. The band discoursed a [illegible] patriotic airs in front of the Court House and presently our [illegible] citizens came thronging in from all directions and the capacious Court room [illegible] crowded to overflowing in a short [illegible] time.

At [illegible] o'clock the meeting was called to order by the Chairman of the County Central Committee, D J Malarkey, who made a few opening remarks and stated that the first step toward effecting an organization of a club would be the election of a permanent Chairman.

On motion of A M Loryea, Jacob Stitzel was chosen Chairman.

Mr Stitzel arose and after sincerely thanking the meeting for the honor thus conferred on him proceeded to state that he was gratified to see so many persons present at the meeting, that it was a favorable indication to the cause of Republicanism to see such an attendance on such short notice. He had no doubt from the present political aspect of affairs that Multnomah county would roll up in November a majority for Grant and Wilson of 2,000 instead of 600 as at the last State election. All that was required to ensure an overwhelming victory was organization and effective work; that the Republicans in this city had taken a step in the right direction in the organization of a Grant and Wilson Club. In conclusion the speaker asked what had become of the Greeley Club in Portland, as nothing had been heard of the pretended organization for some time. On taking the chair, Mr Stitzel was loudly applauded.

Mr Malarkey moved that the following gentlemen be chosen to act as Vice Presidents of the Club, which was unanimously carried: Hon Philip Wasserman, A H Johnson, Hon Henry Failing, Ben Holladay, Esq, C H Lewis, Esq, R B Knapp, A B Richardson, H L Pittock, Joseph Buchtel, Hon J H Mitchell, Dr W H Cardwell, L H Wakefield, James O'Meara, James Dolan, Dr A M Loryea, F Beebe, John O'Connor, T J Dryer, J N Dolph, John Dolan, Hon W W Upton, S B Parrish, William Wadhams, William Dellinger, Robert Bybee, W H Harris, Sol Hirsch, Thomas B Young, W Lair Hill, Jacob Mayer, Hon J B Congle, S J McCormick, James Steel, Hon J D Biles, A P Ankeny, L Baum, John Donnovan, Hon A C Gibbs, H Hanson, O N Denny, Henry Everding, J Kenworthy, John McCraken, Thomas A Savier, John R Foster, E Milwain, George H Durham, O B Gibson, P C Schuyler, L St John, W Jackson, Hon J F Caples, Thomas Frazar, James Cook, A G Cunningham, D W Burnside, S Farrell, George W Weidler, J M Caywood, J J Henderson, L Besser, H Thielsen, Wilson Bowlby, E M Barton, J C Moreland, David Powell, C A Ball, William Masters, M S Burrell, H W Davis, W W Spaulding, J P W Quimby, Charles H Dodd, George I Cole, J J Hoffman, H W Scott, George L Story, Philip Saunders, C S Silver, Levi Anderson.

On motion of Dr Loryea the following gentlemen were appointed to act as an Executive Committee for the Club: D J Malarkey, George I Cole, J J Henderson, J J Hoffman, J C Moreland.

On motion of D J Malarkey the following persons were chosen as a Finance Committee: H W Scott, Sol Hirsch, L H Wakefield, James Steel, J M Caywood.

The Chairman announced that several prominent speakers would address the meeting. The first speaker introduced was who came forward amidst prolonged applause and spoke as follows:

Mr President and Fellow Citizens:

I shall not detain you long with any extended speech. We are here in cheerful obedience to the call of the Republican County Committee of Multnomah county for the purpose of renewing our allegiance to the National Republican party, and to declare to the world our intentions to support with all the power and energy of our personal and political being its present national standard bearers and nominees of the Philadelphia Convention, Ulysses S Grant of Illinois, and Henry Wilson of Massachusetts.

This evening our party camp fires, whose embers have scarcely died out since our recent contest and recent victory in this State, shall be rekindled to guide our conquering hosts on to the yet greater contest, and a more brilliant victory.

The daily telegrams from the States east of the Rocky Mountains, remind us that we are on the eve of another of those periodical, those quadrennial but bloodless contests wherein the voice of the whole people, as uttered at the ballot box, is to determine in whose hands the Government shall rest the ensuing four years, and which must necessarily to a greater or less extent, control and shape the destinies of our Republic for years and years to come.

It is a great struggle therefore, between conflicting minds and elements, before whose splendors those of the serried hosts of war, upon the world's blood stained battlefields, pale into insignificance and fade forever away, a contest where in the sword lies motionless in its scabbard and the revolutionary swift winged bullet, gives place to that more peaceful and constitutional ballot which the poet tells us—

> Comes down as lightly as snowflakes fall upon the sod
> But executes the freeman's will as lightning does the will of God

We are here to-night, fellow citizens, in the exercise of our prerogatives as members of a great political party and as citizens of our common country for the purpose of inaugurating in Multnomah county the Presidential campaign for 1872.

We are here to again call the roll of those valiant Republicans upon whose banner victory has so often perched, and who in the recent contest gave to the Republican nominee for Congress a majority of nearly one thousand votes, and here this evening in the presence of this large and enthusiastic audience we renew our faith in the cherished principles of Republicanism as enunciated in the National Republican Platform at the Philadelphia Convention and pledge ourselves each to the other and to true Republicans everywhere throughout the length and breadth of the land that in November next Multnomah county shall roll up a majority of over one thousand votes against that nameless party led by Greeley and Brown, and in favor of that hero of many victories in peace as well as in war, the present President of these United States of America. And when a coalition of elements, of principles, and of men so unexpected, so unnatural, so opposed to all past history, so pregnant with suspicion, so clouded in doubt, so involved in mystery and so abhorrent to every principle and sentiment of consistency is presented as our adversary as that of Greeley and the Democracy bearing upon their banners the frank but ominous declaration "Anything to beat Grant," then it occurs to me that good intelligent patriotic men of all political parties should hesitate long before they join hands with such an alliance, or give countenance to what appears to be a dangerous conspiracy against the true interests of the whole people, that they should ponder well the question whether it is for the best interests of this Republic with its forty millions of people, with all its treasured trophies of the past and its high hopes for the future that the administration of its government should be wrested from the hands of those who have borne its banner in triumph over many a battle field, reconstructed the shattered temple of its freedom, preserved and enlarged the liberties of its people, scourged it of a nation's curse, humanized its system of jurisprudence, vitalized its whole financial and industrial being, stimulated and extended its commerce, maintained its integrity and fair name at home and abroad, and sped its mighty being forward to sublime grandeur and with moral and political power over the great highway of peace and prosperity, and be turned over to that nameless conglomeration of men and principles, that unnatural coalition, that strange and dangerous confederation of antagonistic forces now demanding control of this Government.

The motives that will induce men to barter every principle for which they have zealously battled through all the years of a lifetime, and turn their backs upon the record of their lives and upon their friends and clasp hands not across "the bloody chasm" but rather the filthy pool with their personal and political enemies must be something else than patriotic, and unless I am much mistaken, the decision of the American mind and the judgment of the American people in November next will pronounce them base and their possessors unworthy the confidence of a free, independent, intelligent and patriotic constituency. And yet such would seem to be the character of the motives and the men that are to-day arrayed against the Republican party and its standard bearers.

Horace Greeley, the life-long champion of the doctrine of protection to American industry by means of a high protective tariff, to-day the candidate for President of that party whose great cardinal principle upon this important subject has been that of free trade, and who in their National Platform at Cincinnati in 185[illegible]—as well as in other platforms both before and since—declared that they were in favor of a system of free trade throughout the world. Horace Greeley, the life-long stickler for the doctrine of the supremacy of the general government over those of the States, to-day the candidate of that party which for near three quarters of a century has contended for the directly opposite doctrine of State rights and State supremacy, and which finally for the purpose of maintaining that infamous heresy at all hazards and engrafting it in direct terms upon the system of government plunged the nation into war and desolated the land with blood.

Horace Greeley, who two years ago insisted on the several recent Amendments to the Constitution, to-day the candidate of that party which then claimed and ever since till within the past few months, that those amendments were the result of usurpation and fraud and were not binding as parts of the Constitution upon the American people. Horace Greeley, who for a life time, until his head has become hoary with the frosts of time, has proclaimed to the world through the trumpet tones of the leading newspaper of the land that the Democratic party is composed principally of the slums and vagabonds of society, to-day the candidate of that same Democratic party for President. Oh consistency, thou art a jewel!

Search the records of the past, go down among the governments of earth, rescue from the history of the worst nation and the worst men that have ever lived since creation's dawn and such an example of inconsistency in all its elements and hues of character can nowhere be found. It is an unprecedented example of an over weening ambition upon the one hand, a[illegible] a most [illegible] and humiliating sacrifice of principle, coupled with an effort upon the other under the false name of patriotism, to obtain through chicanery and deception the control of a Government that treason and rebellion had failed to destroy. It is a bold stroke of policy, not by the masses engaged by any means, but by the leaders who planned it, by the men whose hands and whose hearts are not yet washed wholly clean from the crime of moral and political treason, and which, if successful would in my judgment fall upon the destiny of this Republic more terribly than did the fiery hail of rebellion.

It is a subject then upon which every patriot in the land should speak out in trumpet tones and cast at once and with all the power of his nature into the balance of the mighty controversy the weight of his influence, whether it be great or small. There is no more excuse to-day for men to be neutral or afraid to define their position than there was when the artillery of the rebellion was thundering at the gates of the Republic. The liberties and the dearest rights of the people were in jeopardy then, they are none the less in peril now, and no true Republican and patriot who loves his party and his country and who desires to see them succeed in every contest and triumph upon every battle field whether of peace or war, can now in justice to himself, his party or his country afford to maintain a dignified silence, much less evade, postpone, or shirk the solemn issues of the hour, although the reward for such a course might be a scepter or a crown.

The evil results of peaceful revolution are not infrequently more disastrous in their consequences than those of war. Diplomacy and political legerdemain have in ages past at times accomplished those purposes for the accomplishment of which bloody wars have been waged in vain. The quiet political cunning and the secret political machinations of the unfeared warrior are oftentimes more dangerous than the drawn sword, while the unsuspecting patriotic masses of the people are more likely to be deceived by a secret wicked ballot than by an open wicked bullet.

But why, I would inquire, should we abandon the Republican party or turn our backs in cold ingratitude upon its glorious record? If the past has not the Republican party in the language of our National Platform, "During the eleven years of its ascendency accepted with grand courage the solemn duties of the time, suppressed a gigantic rebellion, emancipated four millions of slaves, decreed the equal citizenship of all and established universal suffrage?" Yes, it has done more than this. It has extended and enlarged our National area, reaching far out towards the waters of Asia, thus laying the strong arm of the Government upon the commerce of the world. It has protected and encouraged immigration. It has demanded and secured from European powers a full and complete acknowledgment of the rights of naturalized citizens. It has maintained the integrity and fair name of our nationality in all lands and upon every sea. It has in the Administration of the finance of the Government, in the language of an eminent statesman, "transpled upon impossibilities," providing for the National credit in the form of a National currency, and maintaining that credit under unparalleled embarrassments, so that it stands to-day as a proud mausoleum to the most successful financial diplomacy known among the governments of men. It has during the Administration of Grant reduced the public debt at the rate of over one hundred millions of dollars per annum, thus wiping out of existence during the three years of his Administration over three hundred millions of the nation's debt, and cutting off during that time interest on that debt to the extent of twenty millions a year. And yet, notwithstanding this great reduction of the debt, the burdens of taxation have been reduced over one hundred and fifty millions of dollars per year. It has elevated the labor of the country from a condition little less than that of actual servitude to one that is honorable and substantial and consistent with the high pretensions of freedom and justice to which our Republic so justly aspires. It has given to each laboring man in the land his separate portion of the public domain as a free gift, an inalienable heritage to him and his posterity forever—an inestimable patrimony wholly worthy the user and magnanimity of the donor and the rich toil worth of the laboring classes of the land [illegible] whose interests it was accomplished.

The Republican party has by its statesmanship aided in the construction of that great continental highway that has connected the pearly gates of the morning with the golden curtains of the evening—forming a mighty bond of union cementing the interests, the sympathies, the destinies of the people of the two extremes of a great continent, rendering that which was before separate and distinct homogeneous and identical, and bringing at one sublime epoch of the great Republic the whole mass of the public domain (including over one thousand millions of acres) within the immediate reach, not of land grabbers and speculators, but of the toiling millions of the land, for happy homes for them and their posterity. It has grasped with the master mind of true statesmanship menacing foreign difficulties and disposed of them in a peaceable and honorable manner, whereby the honor, the integrity, the good name, the moral and political power of the nation have been held in high position among the governments of the world. It has remembered with becoming gratitude the valiant soldiers and sailors who, fighting under the banner of liberty and the Republican party, saved the life of the best government on earth, and while changes may come and go, and the [illegible] shall continue to shine in the blue firmament of [illegible], the Republican party, its true friends, away down in the plains of future time shall with hearts full of emotion and with tearful eyes hold in grateful remembrance and with unfading gratitude the memory of those noble men who perished amidst the wild conflagration of war in order that our proud government of ours, this majestic temple of liberty, this asylum to the oppressed [illegible] might endure forever.

Has not then the Republican party a record that is sublime in its achievements and studded with brilliant gems that shall cast their pure and steady light far down the track of future ages? Does not the forgiving disposition and unexampled leniency manifested by the Republican party toward those lately engaged in rebellion, in blotting out their great crimes and in remembering not their great offenses in anger against them and in receiving them back with open arms within the sacred precincts of that Union they labored to destroy, present an example of magnanimity unparalleled in the history of the world? Does not the Republican party to-day present a platform, the embodiment of truth, justice, magnanimity and power, upon which the greatest patriot or most zealous philanthropist of the age might be proud to stand, while battling for the elevation of his race and the promotion of the highest and best interests of mankind? And has not the [illegible] administration of [illegible] Grant been [illegible] [illegible] by [illegible] the great party to which he belongs [illegible] character [illegible] confidence and admiration of the people [illegible] though attacked upon every side with all the malignity that disappointed ambition, human avarice, personal and political hate, and concealed wrath and secret revenge could [illegible], although subjected to the most rigorous and searching investigations to which any administration has ever been exposed, it has come forth from every fiery ordeal with colors [illegible] and flying, without even the smell of [illegible] upon its garments. [illegible] calumniators and [illegible] its Sumners and its Trumbulls [illegible] have fled from [illegible] disappointed and defeated, have fled from [illegible] its incorruptible presence no longer able to stand in the way of its triumphs, unable to pluck low its proud trophies of the past or destroy its high hopes for the future, they have sought a refuge around the camp fires of the enemy and joined their political fortunes with a party without a name or kindred, and whose existence will soon forever perish beneath the approaching triumphs of the Republican party. [illegible] to North Carolina, but the beginning [illegible] end. There the combined hosts of Liberal [illegible] and Democracy fell before the awakened [illegible] of the people, there the [illegible] [illegible] unnatural coalition [illegible] Democracy was laid [illegible] very [illegible] of its existence [illegible] and [illegible] triumph [illegible] before [illegible].

[illegible] all over the land here and elsewhere and [illegible] they spurn the contemptuous thing and spew it out of their mouths and rallying to the call of the old leaders [illegible] to get the real [illegible] their condemnation upon the infamous bargain at Baltimore by the nomination of a straight [illegible] Democratic ticket upon a good old fashioned [illegible] Democratic platform [illegible] then what then? Horace Greeley sold and betrayed as never was being betrayed since the days of Judas, [illegible] by his army of disappointed office-seekers [illegible] the mourning, with Jasper W Johnson as chief pall bearer, over whose forever dead, for in that event Greeley and Brown will not carry a solitary electoral vote, and then amid the general confusion of opposing elements [illegible] forces and jarring factions truth and justice will again lift up their [illegible] forms. Grant and Wilson will reap the [illegible] and bearing forward upon a nation's [illegible] in gratitude and love to a triumphant [illegible] the proud standard of the Republican party.

At the conclusion of Mr Mitchell's speech, short and telling addresses were made by Messrs O'Meara, Gibbs and Hill. Much enthusiasm prevailed throughout the evening and the meeting proved a grand success. The campaign has now fairly commenced, and the ball has been set in motion which is to roll on in triumph until next November when Multnomah county is again to administer a telling blow on Democracy and so called [illegible]. If the Club, now organized and placed in good working order, labor earnestly and effectively for the Republican cause, Grant and Wilson can safely count on 2,000 majority in this county at the next Presidential election.

During the course of the evening the Grant and Wilson pledge was circulated freely among the audience and great numbers signed it. Over 500 signatures have already been attached to the pledge—that number becoming members of the Club. This is certainly a very encouraging start. Within the next two weeks that number will doubtless be more than doubled. But one common [illegible] seems to actuate the members of the Club, and that is to move steadily forward to victory.

THE MAIL ROBBERY

[illegible] OF THE PRISONERS [illegible] RT
—[illegible]

[illegible] DAY [illegible]

Court convened at 9 o clock A M Testimony being closed

HON [illegible] D [illegible]

proceeded to open the argument on part of the prosecution stating that the indictment in the first count charged the defendants Hanson Tompkins and Bramlette with robbing the U S mails the second count accuses White with being an accessory after the fact the third count charges all four with the commission of the crime He cited various authorities showing where two or more persons formed a conspiracy for the commission of a crime the acts and declarations of one are evidence against all, and that a confession, although extorted by threats and promises was admissible when extraneous facts were proven which destroyed the presumption that the person making the confession through the influence of fear or hope had made a false statement He then reviewed the testimony somewhat at length claiming that the evidences of the tracks discovered being made by the boots and shoes worn by some of the defendants —the identity of horse tracks being made by horses owned by and which Bramlette in his confession had stated were ridden by defendants at the time of the robbery—the testimony of the female passengers as to the identity of the voice of one of the robbers with that of defendant Tompkins, etc , all led to the conclusion beyond the possibility of a reasonable doubt that the prisoners at the bar were the guilty parties He claimed that the jury should not deliberate ten minutes before finding the verdict of guilty Mr Dowell's speech was an able effort touching upon and explaining nearly every point in the whole case and establishing by a clear [illegible] and a well defined train of thought the conclusions to which he would have the jury arrive in making up their verdict as to the guilt or innocence of the defendants He occupied about one hour and fifty minutes.

J C MORELAND, ESQ

next addressed the Court and jury on behalf of defendants In opening he stated his apprehension of the importance of the case at bar and that he felt the responsibility resting upon him as he stood there to speak to that Court and Jury on behalf of men accused of so great a crime This was important to the Government which called for the conviction of the guilty, but did not seek to punish the innocent It was important to the people because their dearest interests demands that the perpetrators of all such crimes as that with which the defendants stood charged should be brought to justice, it was especially important to the defendants, whose every aim, object and desire in life depended on the verdict in this case If that verdict be one of guilty, nothing remained for the defendants but a dark, dismal life of confinement in the walls of a prison It was important to the wife and children of the defendant Tompkins whose stay support and natural protector would by the verdict, be restored to them or forever taken away Mr Moreland then proceeded to produce numerous authorities in support of the points of law relied upon by the defense, to wit That no confession or declaration made by defendant Bramlette through fear of punishment or hope of reward were not admissible unless the proof showed that the influence of the threats or promises made also that the acts and declarations of one defendant cannot be admitted as testimony against his co defendants if such declarations were made after the common purpose or design had been either accomplished or abandoned and further that in cases where the evidence is circumstantial the circumstances must all be inconsistent with any other rational conclusion than the prisoner's guilt to warrant a conviction He then briefly reviewed the testimony of the witnesses on both sides and plausibly argued that the inconsistency of circumstances as detailed by the [illegible] for the prosecution was certainly too great to warrant a conviction in the minds of the jury that the prisoners were guilty and were certainly unreliable in that degree which would warrant a man in acting in the ordinary concerns of life. He dwelt upon the question of circumstantial evidence, calling attention to the fact that exclusive of the statements alleged to have been made by Bramlette all the testimony in this case was of that character His speech evidently [illegible] the jury and audience with a feeling of sympathy at least for the four prisoners whose [illegible] were closed and who could not speak in their own behalf against the multitude of witnesses who had testified against them. The [illegible] of Mr. Moreland is said, by many who heard it, to have been very creditable to him After a [illegible] of one hour he was followed by

who first reviewed a few points of law applicable to the case and then made a thorough and complete inquiry into probabilities and improbabilities of the conclusions to be derived from the facts in the case which had been established by the testimony of all the witnesses examined in the case He argued that a great number of circumstances which had been brought out in proof by the prosecution would weigh just as much as evidence against many other persons as against the prisoners at the bar and showed clearly that the malice which certain witnesses on part of the prosecution evidently had toward the defendant Tompkins might very naturally have led them into many errors in regard to the facts which actually existed, as well as even to manufacture testimony which would lead to the conviction of the accused parties He dwelt particularly upon the statements alleged to have made by defendant Bramlette, and argued that the weak mind of Bramlette was just of that nature which would be so terrified by the circumstances with which the witnesses Moppin and Attleberry surrounded him, that if there had been a hundred stages in that country he (Bramlette) would have confessed that he robbed them all. He thought the idea that Tompkins should have inquired immediately after his arrest, if the parties making the arrest had Hanson and White, was inconsistent with the idea that Tompkins was not a fool, that it was at the best, absurd to suppose that Tompkins would declare that he could prove himself clear by [illegible] and White after he had been told by Moppin that these parties were charged with participation in the same crime and would be arrested before the sun went down

Mr Caples spoke quite rapidly and made many telling points in his usual effective manner Not a single flaw in the case as made out by the prosecution escaped his attention, and not a seeming point in the defense was left unfortified which his ingenuity could save But seldom has a more powerful argument been made in the Courts of the State than he made on that occasion

then proceeded in an able, eloquent and convincing [illegible] to close the argument He contended that it could not be denied that the crime had been [illegible], that all the people in the vicinity of where it occurred but the defendants had been engaged in trying to ferret out the perpetrators while they had pursued the even tenor of their way that the number of the defendants corresponded with the number who were engaged in the commission of the crime; that those engaged in the robbery were not strangers in the country that Bramlette was scared at the time he made the first confession but every fact in the case showed that he had confessed to nothing but the naked truth, and that his subsequent statements made separately to the witnesses Durbin, Cantrell and G Moppin confirmed the truthfulness of his confession first made. That these later statements were made when the defendants could have been under no undue influence, that the testimony of the witnesses clearly showed that Tompkins, immediately after his arrest, having been told what he was apprehended for, had asked the question "Have you got Hanson and White?" clearly showing his knowledge of the parties who had done the deed. He took the position that the word "Fisk," engraved on the pistol, was made at a different time and by a different person from the word "Frank" Gov Gibbs was severe in his denunciation of the conduct of the witness Edgar in relation to the whole matter and claimed that Mr Edgar had perjured himself in the testimony which he had given before the jury He said also that the witness Grater had received a perpetual mortgage on some of defendant's property, and intimated that the property was probably the price of the witness—Grater's testimony in the case In conclusion Gov Gibbs appealed to the jury to act as reasonable men and if they believed the twenty three witnesses on the part of the prosecution each of whom with the exception of two had sworn to some fact which pointed to the guilt of the defendants they must be led to the conclusion that the prisoners at the bar were the persons who robbed the stage, and they must convict them of the crime with which they stood charged

After Gov Gibbs had closed his able review of the case the Court took a recess until seven o'clock P M

EVENING SESSION

The Court convened pursuant to adjournment and His Honor proceeded to deliver the following

CHARGE TO THE JURY

Gentlemen of the Jury You have listened to the testimony of witnesses and arguments of the counsel in this case which has now occupied quite a week, and it only remains for me to give you the law and instructions in the discharge of my duty

The grand jury for this district have found an indictment accusing the defendants with robbing the U S mail in this district at Antelope Valley in Wasco county on or about the 12th of July 1872 Three of these defendants—Bramlette Hanson and Tompkins—are accused in the first count of robbing the mail the second count indicts the fourth man—White—with being accessory after the fact by assisting and aiding the other three in escaping with their booty The third count accuses all four men as principals in being engaged in some way with the crime before its commission The Act of Congress under which this indictment was found is

That any person who shall rob any carrier agent or other person intrusted with the mail, of such mail or any part thereof shall on conviction thereof be imprisoned at hard labor not less than five nor more than ten years and if convicted a second time of a like offense or if in effecting such robbery the first time the robber shall wound the person having custody of the mail or put his life in jeopardy by the use of dangerous weapons such offender shall be imprisoned at hard labor for the term of his natural life

Two offenses or two degrees of the same offense are defined and provided for in the same section For one of these the defendants have been indicted The one charged is that of "having by the use of dangerous weapons put the carrier's life in jeopardy To this indictment the defendants pleaded not guilty and it is now put upon the jury to determine their guilt or innocence It is not necessary for me to comment much upon the crime It is a crime of great magnitude when the punishment is taken into consideration of great magnitude when the moral turpitude involved is duly considered, of great magnitude when the fact of robbing by force and dangerous weapons and placing the lives of innocent persons in jeopardy is thought of a crime of great magnitude when we consider how important it is for the people of the United States that the mails should be delivered with celerity safety and promptitude from point to point This is for you to decide and the people look to you to say if they are to be protected from such crimes and the defendants look to you for their freedom or conviction

The crimes these parties are charged with consist of two elements First, the body of the crime, second, the crime itself The first I understand is admitted, and there is no trouble for you to deliberate on that question It is established by the proofs produced by the prosecution and the defense, and the counsel for defense in delivering their opening argument acknowledged that the mails had been robbed at Antelope Valley, Wasco county July 12 1872 by some persons who with dangerous weapons put the life of the mail carrier in jeopardy This being satisfactorily proven and not contested, the remaining great question to deliberate upon is, Who did it? The United States, by their indictment and the District Attorney, say the defendants are the parties, and the defendants, pleading not guilty, have by their counsel maintained that they were not the parties committing it This is a question of fact for you to determine You are not to act arbitrarily, but to remember that you have taken the oath to try this case by the law and evidence given you in the trial of this case in this Court, and not let your prejudice carry you away You are bound to take the law given you by the Court, and to apply it to the evidence yourselves not disregarding that and the established law

The first important question of law proper for the Court to instruct you upon arises from the fact that the United States have been allowed to prove the confession of one of these defendants This declaration taken confirms in regard to the time, in regard to who went to the stage and other particulars Arguments were made at the time upon its admission It was admitted by the Court and has been allowed to go to the jury and the jury are to judge of the weight and effect to be given to it. It is a well established and settled fact in law, not without protest and objections, however, that confessions extorted or procured from a party by threats or promises is not to be admitted in evidence against the confessor or others on the party theory that the party might have, through fear, been induced to tell an untruth If you find that any considerable number of the circumstances detailed in the confession are corroborated by facts otherwise proven in the case, you are warranted in giving it full credence and belief, and being governed by it accordingly in finding your verdict A verbal confession is to be received by the jury with caution under any circumstances, but particularly so where it appears to have been under the influence of threats and promises How far the confession is made probable or improbable you can see is corroborated by the place, direction taken by the horses, where they were fastened out, and other circumstances as disclosed by the testimony

If you are satisfied that what was known could only have been in consequence of that one person having been present then that is a very strong corroboration of the confession With these remarks I will close on that subject These remarks and confessions were not only made at the time, but the defendant, Bramlette, during the next day made a statement to Durbin, Cantrell and G Moppin Rules of law induce me to say that under the threats, so long as the situation fairly presumes the same influence and power on the mind to be clearly present as to make the subsequent statement appear to be given under the effect of fear they are not to be taken into consideration If the circumstances and situation are so changed that there is good reason to believe that he was not doing so, then the testimony of the fact that the subsequent confessions were not made or affected by the threats or promises but given voluntarily and freely is to be believed Look at and determine fairly on this question and be satisfied in your own mind, taking every just degree of weight on one side or the other and see in which there is greater or less weight independent of corroborative circumstances

It is maintained by the United States that the declarations of one of the parties to the commission of a crime made while the parties were engaged in the commission of the act is competent proof against all such parties This is upon the reasonable theory that when men engaged in a conspiracy or common purpose to commit crime that while the common purpose lasts each is responsible for the acts and declarations of the the other, done and said in furtherance of the common design But a confession made by one of the co conspirators or co criminals after the accomplishment or abandonment of the common purpose—the commission of the crime—is not competent proof against such co criminals There is no doubt in my mind upon the question There has been nothing shown by the counsel for the United States in law that the declaration of one party made while the party was not engaged is competent proof of the complicity of the others

Therefore the confessions or declarations of Bramlette, although competent evidence against himself cannot be considered by you in determining the guilt or innocence of his co defendants If this were otherwise persons associated together for a great length of time might upon the confession of a man who could furnish evidence be liable to be convicted for no offence Was the act completed supposing these four men committed it It was over and at an end before the confession was made and therefore each stood on his own responsibility

The counsel have read authorities from facts laid before them on circumstantial evidence This kind of evidence when the circumstances are satisfactorily proven and the proper inference made from them is the most satisfactory kind It is often said that circumstances won't lie while witnesses may and some times do If the circumstances showed that either of those defendants, or A B C or D committed the crime and it was as well stated as could be, that or other facts would not determine the case unless one supported the other Therefore as long as those facts are shown and no other theory satisfactorily proven, you must find the defendants guilty Those proofs need not come before you of every fact If you are satisfied of the proof of particular facts put them together and provided the defence make no rational explanation you must find the defendant guilty If there is other rational explanation these facts may be questioned as well as others and you must find them not guilty If in looking over the testimony you think it not sufficient to authorize you and to satisfy you beyond a moral certainty of the guilt of the prisoners you must find them not guilty

But a jury should be careful before they find a defendant guilty on circumstantial [illegible]

Upon this subject the rule of law is that the jury must be morally certain not only that the circumstances concur to show that the defendants committed the crime charged but that they are all inconsistent with any other rational conclusions

In criminal cases a mere preponderance of testimony is not sufficient to authorize a verdict of guilty You must be satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt of the defendants' guilt But the law does not require demonstration or mathematical certainty Moral certainty is sufficient in any case If upon the whole testimony you can say you are morally certain of the defendants guilt, you ought to find them guilty and not otherwise

Neither is a mere conjecture or a possibility reasonable but there must be a doubt arising from the force and character of the evidence When there is such doubt the law directs you to find a verdict of not guilty though the evidence be very strong

You are the final judges of the credibility of witnesses and the force and effect to be given to the facts testified to by them But in so doing you are bound by your oaths and the law to act reasonable and according to the well established rules of evidence founded upon long experience and careful observation Every witness is presumed to tell the truth but this presumption may be overcome in many ways A witness who deliberately testifies falsely in a matter material to the issue is to be distrusted and not believed in any particular except where he is corroborated by other evidence in the case Edgar one of the witnesses was asked in regard to certain statements alleged to have been made to Schutz in regard to marks on the robbers hands and denied having said that he saw no marks by which to identify them Schutz was placed on the stand and was as positive that he (Edgar) had said so If satisfied that Edgar did so you should not believe the other parts of his testimony unless corroborated Edgar said he went to Moppin and you heard him testify that he asked for assistance Ward and Moppin directly contradict it If satisfied that his testimony was false it is another reasonable rule and he should not be believed It is not necessary that Edgar was the man who told a falsehood It is for you to determine who is probably correct and who is not You are to ascertain and it is your duty to find who has told a willful falsehood in the matter and then will not believe that evidence unless corroborated

A witness who appears to entertain malice or ill will toward the defendants is not therefore to be disbelieved in his testimony but you should scrutinize his testimony with more care on that account Any citizen had a right to arrest the defendants for the robbery of the mail, who had good reason to believe that the crime had been committed and that the defendants committed it and it does not follow that because the witnesses Moppin and others, were more or less active in apprehending the defendants that they were actuated by malice and in absence of proof to that effect the contrary is to be presumed It is properly suggested that situated as is this portion of the country the legal machinery of constables and officers, that as a glaring outrage had been committed, it was natural and reasonable that all the citizens should turn out to see if they could discover the perpetrators or not and we are not to infer that this party acted with malice or were hunting, as it were, to gratify their spleen If the testimony showed it it was not supposed to be present when he started in pursuit These men Tompkins and Moppin, had no personal difficulties until a man had been murdered at Tompkins', and then, to use a common phrase, they "broke" —they were not friendly Because a man dislikes another on account of his conduct his public character would not justify his swearing against him

Edgar being the contractor and driver he was bound by contract and oath to be diligent and faithful in carrying the mail And while he was not bound to put his life in peril it was his duty after the robbery to have been diligent in giving the alarm and doing what he could to assist in finding the mail and apprehending the robbers And if he failed to do this or acted otherwise, it is a circumstance which is to be considered under the circumstances of this case in estimating the weight to be given to his evidence

Only one more thing remains Counsel for defense, alluding to the fact that the Court had excluded Mrs Tompkins' testimony, went out of the way to say that whilst he admired the law he must bow in adoration" This is a matter of indifference to the Court, but it was improper for the counsel to say it because the law did not permit the testimony to be admitted if the Court understands it The wife was in Court and as it was a delicate thing, I forbore from saying anything She is a poor woman and I commiserated with her Why her testimony was not admitted must not act prejudicially to the minds of the jurors The law supposes a man and wife to be one What would affect one does the other Feeling for one another all in him and being under his care, she would do anything to save his life or prevent his imprisonment for life in jail and the temptation to tell a falsehood would be very great She was excluded also because the testimony showed that her husband had said her testimony would free Hanson and White, and they would free him and so the rule would be evaded What he declared she would do for them could not be taken, as the same ends would be attained

You will now take the case and determine it until convicted the law presumes all to be innocent The burthen of proof rests with the United States If you are satisfied in acquitting, do so You can find one or all or any number of the defendants guilty The same with the various counts in the indictment, If guilty say so if not, say not guilty

The charge occupied about one hour in its delivery and at a few minutes past 8 o clock the jury retired

THE VERDICT

The jury had been out but a short time—not to exceed fifteen minutes—when they called to the officer having them in charge, and being brought into Court returned a verdict that the defendants were guilty as charged in the indictment

The defendants' counsel then gave notice of a motion for a new trial and were allowed until Saturday, the 31st inst to file such motion

If to any particular person credit is due for working up the case it would seem to belong to the witnesses H Moppin and J Attleberry who did the most of the work in fixing the crime upon the defendants who have been convicted

Much Ado About Nothing.

REQUEST.

The red day is melting into even,
And the even looks on you and me alone,
As you stand tall and clear against the westward,
With heaven's glory added to your own.

The sun creeps ablaze among your tresses,
The winds press unchidden to your brow,
[illegible] ever mean to give me what you promised,
[illegible]ady for it now—give it now.
The sun [illegible]
The waves the earth before his parting,
And cloud leans the shore and trips away,
And I wonder yelond across the heaven
[illegible] dare to answer nay.
By the brown stars that [illegible]
By the brown clouds that in mocking o'er me,
[illegible] lips that tangled on your brow
I am sworn to have it now—give with their redness, [illegible] now.

REFUSAL.

The last words I gave you [illegible]
My last words forevermore sha[illegible]
You may borrow all the sweets from all for [illegible]
But you'd never borrow kisses, sir, from me.

I lend not, I sell not, I give not:
And yet they are to me as little worth
As the common drops of rain, before the sun-god
Has spanned with them the heavens and the earth.

The young moon is weaving spells around us,
The sweet darkness witches us to stay.
The late darkness creeping all around us
Is warning us away—come away.

You would surely never take what I deny you,
And yet it were a sin to break a vow,
But if you meant to steal it, as I fear me,
You had better do it now—take it now.

The Triple Alliance.

(From the New York Evening Mail.)

The alarming reports which most of the Continental journals have recently circulated in regard to the impending meeting of the three Emperors at Berlin have at last caused the Provincial-Correspondenz, the official organ of Prince Bismarck, to break its silence and declare that the meeting of Alexander of Russia, William of Germany, and Francis Joseph of Austria, will be a guarantee of peace for Europe. The organ of the German Chancellor adds that it is the purpose of Germany to maintain and strengthen the bonds between Austria and Russia, for whose friendship she prepared the way.

This declaration throws a flood of light upon the important negotiations that have been going on during the past few months between the cabinets of Berlin, Vienna, and St Petersburg. Bismarck's object, as a matter of course, is to maintain the great achievements and the result of the war with France. The new German Empire is threatened by a twofold danger. Its enemies are France and the Ultramontane party. Bismarck does not apprehend any immediate trouble on the part of France, and hence he is bending all his energies toward crushing out the Ultramontanes. He has dealt them in the course of the last three months a number of staggering blows, but they still stand up against his policy, and as long as the Austrian government seems disinclined to pursue toward them the same aggressive and proscriptive course, Bismarck's battle against them is only half won, and they may renew the struggle at any moment.

Now, it is well known how firmly wedded the Emperor of Austria is to the Ultramontane traditions of his house, and that only political necessities of the utmost importance will induce him to wage against the Vatican an energetic war—a war such as that now carried on by Germany. Austria, however, is constantly menaced by Russia on the lower Danube. Should the Czar, all of a sudden, abandon his policy in regard to the Eastern question, and march his forces into Moldavia and Wallachia, Austria would be in imminent peril—the more so as the Czechs and other Slavic elements of its population are thoroughly disaffected, and could not be relied upon in any struggle between Austria and Russia, all their sympathies being on the side of the latter.

If Bismarck succeeds in bringing about a cordial understanding between Alexander and Francis Joseph at the impending meeting of the three Emperors, and thereby remove from the path of Austria one of the dangers and obstacles that constantly hamper her statesmen, the grateful Emperor of that country will be found willing enough to help the German Chancellor in his struggle with the Ultramontanes.

That France will have to keep quiet as long as Austria, Prussia, and Germany are united, is certain; and so the declaration of Bismarck's organ that the approaching meeting of the three Emperors will be a guarantee of peace for Europe, it would seem is well grounded.

It remains to be seen what the Ultramontanes will do about it. They will surely strain every nerve to prevent the Austrian Emperor from joining the proposed Triple Alliance.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

SATURDAY EVENING, August 24, 1872.

Gold in New York to-day, 113¼.

Portland Legal Tender rates, 87c buying, 88 selling.

The steamship Oriflamme sailed to-day from San Francisco for this port, and will probably arrive Tuesday [illegible]light.

The barks Navigator and Electra will begin discharging their cargoes of railroad iron on Monday morning, and will take in Wheat for the United Kingdom.

Scarcity of tonnage is much felt. A gentleman of this city connected with the Lumber trade informs us that he thinks at his mills in Columbia county nearly two cargoes of lumber ready for shipment, but cannot rely on obtaining vessels to carry it to San Francisco. There are no disengaged vessels at any port on the Pacific Coast. Tonnage is wanted for Coal, Lumber and Wheat, and there is no ready prospect that the demand will be supplied. Oregon Wheat is not coming forward yet to any considerable extent, and there is therefore less demand for vessels for shipping Wheat than there will be a few weeks hence.

Money seems to be somewhat easier; yet there is reason to apprehend that it will not be so plentiful throughout the State this fall as it was last. Disbursements for railway construction are not so heavy in this part of the State as they were last year, though large sums have been disbursed in the Umpqua country. Again, we shall not be able to realize from Wheat the money we realized last year. Prices are low, and many farmers who can hold their Wheat, not being forced to sell, will wait in the hope of better prices. For Wool this year more money has been realized than usual, but the additional sum has scarcely been large enough to make itself felt. Fortunately the good prices and abundant money of last year enabled many to get out of debt, so that the scarcity of money this year will be less severely felt. The upshot of the whole matter is that since our products will not bring what they did last year, our people must content themselves with fewer imported goods manufactured abroad.

New York advices to the 10th inst. report the sale of 1,000 lbs Oregon Wool at 46c (currency) per lb. This is less than was paid for the Wool here. Boston advices of the 14th inst. say: "Supplies of fleece come along slowly, and with high prices in the interior it is difficult to make sales at satisfactory prices. Foreign Wool is held firm and holders are now indifferent about selling unless full prices are obtained, as the Wool cannot be replaced from any point abroad at current rates. The dull state of the goods market no doubt checks the demand from manufacturers, and even at present comparatively low prices, there is no disposition to stock up to any extent."

It is believed that hereafter the regular rate for charters for Wheat from San Francisco to Liverpool will be [illegible] per ton, or 1¼c (nearly) per lb. This is equal to 75c per bushel, and leaves the farmer but a small proportion of the proceeds of his grain. Such rates must affect freights and prices here.

It is now believed that estimates heretofore made of the amount of the Cotton crop of the present year were much too large. An impression begins to prevail at the East and South that it will not exceed 3,500,000 bales, which is 500,000 bales less than the usual estimates.

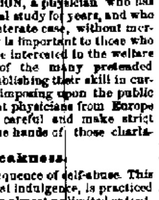
TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies are that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the faces, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy too work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—It will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Post Office Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.

The Triple Alliance

From the New York Evening [illegible]

The alarming reports which most of the Continental journals have recently circulated in regard to the impending meeting of the three Emperors at Berlin have at last caused the Provincial Correspondenz, the official organ of Prince Bismarck, to break its silence and declare that the meeting of Alexander of Russia, William of Germany and Francis Joseph of Austria will be a guarantee of peace for Europe. The organ of the German Chancellor adds that it is the purpose of Germany to maintain and strengthen the bonds between Austria and Russia, for whose friendship she prepared the way.

This declaration throws a flood of light up on the important negotiations that have been going on during the past few months between the cabinets of Berlin, Vienna and St Petersburg. Bismarck's object, as a matter of course, is to maintain the great achievements and the result of the war with France. The new German Empire is threatened by a twofold danger. Its enemies are France and the Ultramontane party. Bismarck does not apprehend any immediate trouble on the part of France, and hence he is bending all his energies toward crushing out the Ultramontanes. He has dealt them in the course of the last three months a number of staggering blows but they still stand up against his policy, and as long as the Austrian government seems disinclined to pursue toward them the same aggressive and proscriptive course Bismarck's battle against them is only half won and they may renew the struggle at any moment.

Now, it is well known how firmly wedded the Emperor of Austria is to the Ultramontanes and traditions of his house and that only political necessities of the utmost importance will induce him to wage against the Vatican an energetic war—a war such as that now carried on by Germany. Austria however is constantly menaced by Russia on the lower Danube. Should the Czar all of a sudden abandon his policy in regard to the Eastern question and march his forces into Moldavia and Wallachia Austria would be in imminent peril—the more so as the Czechs and other Slavic elements of its population are thoroughly disaffected and could not be relied upon in any struggle between Austria and Russia, all their sympathies being on the side of the latter.

If Bismarck succeeds in bringing about a cordial understanding between Alexander and Francis Joseph at the impending meeting of the three Emperors, and thereby remove from the path of Austria one of the dangers and obstacles that constantly hamper her statesmen, the grateful Emperor of that country will be found willing enough to help the German Chancellor in his struggle with the Ultramontanes.

That France will have to keep quiet as long as Austria, Prussia, and Germany are united is certain, and so the declaration of Bismarck's organ that the approaching meeting of the three Emperors will be a guarantee of peace for Europe, it would seem is well grounded.

It remains to be seen what the Ultramontanes will do about it. They will surely strain every nerve to prevent the Austrian Emperor from joining the proposed Triple Alliance.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

SATURDAY EVENING, August 26 1872

Gold in New York to-day 113¼.

Portland Legal Tender rates 87c buying; 88 selling.

The steamship Oriflamme sailed to-day from San Francisco for this port, and will probably arrive Tuesday.

The barks Navigator and Electra will begin discharging their cargoes of railroad iron on Monday morning, and will take in Wheat for the United Kingdom.

Scarcity of tonnage is much felt. A gentleman of this city connected with the Lumber trade informs us that he has at his mills in Columbia county nearly two cargoes of lumber ready for shipment, but cannot rely on obtaining vessels to carry it to San Francisco. There are no disengaged vessels at any port on the Pacific Coast. Tonnage is wanted for Coal, Lumber and Wheat, and there is no ready prospect that the demand will be supplied. Grain Wheat is not coming forward yet to any considerable extent, and there is therefore less demand for vessels for shipping Wheat than there will be a few weeks hence. Money seems to be somewhat easier, yet there is reason to apprehend that it will not be so plentiful through the State this fall as it was last. Disbursements for railway construction are not so heavy in this part of the State as they were last year, though large sums have been disbursed in the Umpqua country. Again we shall not be able to realize from Wheat the money we realized last year. Prices are low and many farmers who can hold their Wheat, not being forced to sell, will wait in the hope of better prices. For Wool this year more money has been realized than usual, but the additional sum has scarcely been large enough to make itself felt. Fortunately the good prices and abundant money of last year enabled many to get out of debt, so that the scarcity of money this year will be less severely felt. The upshot of the whole matter is that since our products will not bring what they did last year our people must content themselves with fewer imported goods manufactured abroad.

New York advices to the 10th inst report the sale of 1,050 lbs Oregon Wool at 48c (currency) per lb. This is less than was paid for the Wool here. Boston advices of the 14th inst say: Supplies of fleece come along slowly and with high prices in the interior it is difficult to make a satisfactory price. Foreign Wool is held firm and holders are now indifferent about selling unless full prices are obtained, as the Wool cannot be replaced from any point abroad at current rates. The dull state of the goods market no doubt checks the demand from manufacturers and even at present comparatively low prices there is no disposition to stock up to any extent.

It is believed that hereafter the regular rate for charters for Wheat from San Francisco to Liverpool will be [illegible] per ton or 1½c (nearly) per lb. This is equal to 5c per bushel, and saves the farmer but a small proportion of the proceeds of his grain. Such rates must affect freights and prices here.

It is now believed that estimates heretofore made of the amount of the Cotton crop of the present year were much too large. An impression begins to prevail at the East and South that it will not exceed 3,500,000 bales, [illegible] 500,000 bales less than the usual estimates.

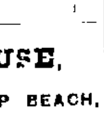
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases of long standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR GIBBON has [illegible] pleasure of announcing that he [illegible] the European Hospitals of [illegible] at his Dispensary, 623 Kearney street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases

How many thousands of persons both male and female, are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of early indulgences or from vicious habits [illegible]. Look at their pallid cheeks, [illegible] figures and faces and their broken down constitution, [illegible] for the happiness of marriage [illegible] life. In this horrid situation they [illegible] until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these terrible life-destroying maladies. See that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR GIBBON, a physician who has made [illegible] especial study for years and who [illegible] the most inveterate case without mercury [illegible] injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This [illegible] indulgence is practiced by [illegible] sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms unless combated by scientific medical measures: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the [illegible] of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the [illegible], weakness of the limbs, confused vision, [illegible], loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, [illegible] society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and [illegible] eruptions about the faces, furred tongue, [illegible] coughs, consumption, night sweats, [illegible]. If relief be not obtained, [illegible] apply immediately either in person or by letter [illegible] the new and scientific [illegible] this disease which never fails of effecting [illegible]. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he has been cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—It will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR J F GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.

GIRARD'S SECRET.—Stephen Girard used to say in his old age: "I have always considered advertising liberally and long to be the great medium of success in business and the prelude to wealth. And I have made it an invariable rule to advertise in dull times as well as the busiest, long experience having taught me that money thus spent is well laid out, as by continually keeping my business before the public it has secured many sales I otherwise would have lost."
